TECHNICAL PROJECTS

Breakout Game | GitHub: <https://github.com/joeljdv/breakout-game>

This app is a breakout game, the objective of the game is to break all the blocks on the screen without losing all five lives.

- Used HTML and CSS to render the grid, add colors, and position all the elements.
- Used JavaScript to create blocks, start the game, and move the paddle.
- Used the x and y coordinates of the ball, the paddle, and the blocks to know the position of each.

Blog | GitHub: <https://github.com/joeljdv/posts-app>

This app is a blog, where a user can log in and create a post, see the posts made by other users, and interact with them by making comments.

- Used Ruby on Rails to create an API to store all the user's data (user info, posts, comments)
- Used React for the front end. Utilized hooks to locally store the data necessary, like the user's information to render a profile page.
